Getting in

You log in with Discord, but only once your DM has invited you.

1. Tell your DM your Discord username — the unique one without spaces, not your display name.
2. Open dnd.astralex.dev and click Log in with Discord. Discord asks once to share your username and avatar, nothing else.
3. If you see You're not invited yet, the invite isn't there yet or has a typo — ask your DM to check it.

Your name sits top right; click it to log out.

Your character

Your character belongs to your account — only you can edit it, and Characters in the sidebar opens it directly.

- No character yet? Characters shows the list: click + Create New Character and go through the wizard. A character from before logins existed appears once your DM assigns it to you.
- One active character. If you have several, Set Active in the list picks the one you play; the others become inactive. All my characters at the top of the sheet leads back to the list.
- Editing: every field saves by itself when you click away (a green note confirms). Skills, saves and inspiration save on click.
- Level up: + Level Up at the top. Enter the new level and your hit-die roll; the app adds your Constitution modifier and proficiency bonus.
- Coin purse: one counter per coin type under Basics, edited like any field.
- Inventory: the sheet lists your items with their weight and the total. View inventory opens them as cards: click a card to edit it (it saves when you click away, or with Done), + New item adds one. Anything you buy in a shop lands there by itself.
- Download PDF gives a print-ready sheet.

At the table — the Board

The Board is the live table: it updates by itself, and Sheet › / ‹ Board switch between it and your full sheet in one click.

Panel	What you do there
Character	Your HP and ability modifiers at a glance; Sheet › opens the full sheet.

Panel	What you do there
Dice	Pick dice, count and modifier, roll. Rolled real dice? Keep the same selection, type the total and record it (e.g. 5d12+3 → 35). Only you see your last 5 results, at the bottom; ✕ removes one, Clear all empties the list.
Initiative	The fight order, live. The DM keeps it.
Timer	Spell and effect timers the DM runs for everyone or for your character, counting down.
Shop	Shops the DM opened for you pop up by themselves, with their location under the name. Items are grouped by category, with weight and description. Buy works only if you have exactly the listed coins — too expensive shows red, sold out disappears. What you buy goes straight into your inventory.
Maps	Maps shared with you, with a preview. A new one pops up: View now or Later. 👁 hides it, 🔓 keeps it visible after the session ends, ↪ hands it to another character.
My Notes	Your private notes, quick to reach.
Calculator	The four basic operations.

Your notes

Notes in the sidebar is your private notebook: as many titled pages as you like. Pages save with the Save button, not by themselves. Nobody else can read them — not even the DM.

Good to know

- The DM can read your sheet but can't change it, and can't see your notes or your dice rolls.
- Coins never convert: a price must be paid in exactly the listed coins; the same value in other coins doesn't count.
- House rule — ability modifiers: below 10, each point is −1 (9 = −1, 8 = −2, 7 = −3); from 10 up it's standard 5e.
- House rule — level-up HP: hit-die roll + Constitution modifier + proficiency bonus.
- A new character starts from zero: no maps or shops carry over from an old one.

Quick answers

Problem	What to do
You're not invited yet	Give your DM your exact Discord username.
No character after logging in	Create one, or ask the DM to assign your old one.
A shared map is missing	You may have hidden it: Show hidden maps at the bottom of the Maps panel.
Buy is greyed out	You lack the exact coins listed — check your purse on the sheet.
A page looks out of date	Reload it; nothing is lost.

Problem	What to do
Something is broken	Tell the DM or Severin what you clicked.
